SYNOPSIS

In 1897, Seattle was a bustling booming gateway to the Klondike gold rush. Tim O'Beirn, with the help of his good friend Michael Dark, a handrumh. Tim O'Beirn, with the help of his good friend Michael Dark, a handsome young lawyer, persuades Meg Beaumont, his pretty, yellow-haired niece, not to go to Alaska in ecarch of her husband, Kemp Beaumont. Kemp had deserted Meg and their small son. Johnny, for the gold fields of the frozen north. Michael finds Meg a place to stay at Matilda Cox's boarding house, where he lives. Tim thinks Meg should return to her father in Illinois, but Meg refuses, although she hasn't a job or money. Matilda asks Michael to find her a job, and he suggests schoolteaching, but Meg says no. Meanwhile, at the boarding house, Meg meets Jenny Fleur, who has a small hat shop that isn't doing well because she isn't a good seleswoman. Meg says to an design and sell hats so Michael suggests they become partners. After the partnership is formed. Jason Ten Eyck, a prosperous merchant, offers to let them display hats once a week in his store. Jason also becomes interested in Meg. Meg and Jenny work well together. They have a common bond after Meg discovers that Jenny's husband has deserted her, to This gives them more reason than ever to succeed.
