Grange Collects $127 for Cancer Fund; Near Future Activities Are Announced

The sum of $127.65 was reported collected for the Cancer Fund when Leeburg Grange met Thursday evening in the hall at Pharrburg.

Mrs. Charles McLaughlin, chairman of home economics committee, reported that her committee and members of the Grange had canvassed Leeburg township for the donation.

During the business session, thank you notes were read to Mrs. Myrtle Cunningham and Ralph Talmay and a communication from the state secretary. One appeal for aid was answered and all bills were allowed.

Mrs. McLaughlin introduced Mrs. Marian Tossey, home economics teacher in Marysville high school, who was the judge in the baking contest. She explained various points of judging as she read the score sheet.

First prize, out of the ten entries, was awarded to Martha Braithwaite and second to Irene Hanby. Gifts were presented by Mrs. McLaughlin, to both winners and the judge.

Representative of the program, also scheduled by the lecturers, called at the last minute canceling the film demonstration. The lecturer, Miss Nina Jewell, substituted three games which provided entertainment.

Grange inspection was conducted by Mrs. Ruth Phillips, secretary.

Blasted living room tonight is where Andrew Donald Dixon threw left stool when he unwrapped a supposed "wedding gift" which exploded in his face, severely injuring him and four others. Only hours before the 37-year-old English. Ohio man was to be wed to Sara Louise Pfarrer, 21, tupper belt, he found the package on his porch. He carried it inside to show relatives as he opened it, setting off the hidden bomb. Police investigated possible revenge or jealousy motive. (International Soundphoto)
